SOAP ON HAIR CAUSES DANDRUFF, SCALP GETS DRY, HAIR FALLS OUT

Girls! Get a 25-cent bottle and try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse."

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dandruff. Better still, use soap sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.—Advt.

FIREBUG GETS BUSY AGAIN IN BROOKLYN

Blaze Started at No. 744 Fulton Street Is Fourth in the Past Two Months.

The Brooklyn Fire Marshal received further confirmation early to-day that a firebug is working in that section when a blaze was discovered at the foot of the cellar stairs at No. 744 Fulton Street. It had been started in a pile of papers and was discovered by Samuel Carter, a tenant in the four-story building, who put it out before it had done any damage.

Within the past two months several other incendiary fires have been found in that immediate neighborhood. Two were made from piles of papers placed in the ground floor hallways and one was built up between the top floor ceiling and the roof.

ENDS LIFE BY GAS, TAKES 2 CHILDREN TO DEATH WITH HIM

Greenburg Closed Bedroom Tight, Then Unscrewed Chandelier.

Hopelessly ill from tuberculosis and unable to get work because of it, Leopold Greenburg, thirty-three years old, committed suicide by gas early to-day at No. 324 Berriman Street, East New York. Two of his children, Sylvia, nine, and Rebecca, thirteen months, died with him.

Mrs. Greenburg and two other children, Rosa, eleven years, and Tillie, five, came to Manhattan early last night to attend the wedding of Mrs. Greenburg's brother. They remained at the festivities late, and it was almost 8 o'clock when they reached home.

There was no response to Mrs. Greenburg's raps on the door and she finally broke it down. There was a rush of gas, which she traced to an inner bedroom. She opened all the windows and then found her husband and the two children dead in bed.

Mrs. Greenburg said her husband formerly was employed in a comb factory in Manhattan, but two months ago it burned. His health had been rapidly failing and no one would give him work because of the fear of contracting the malady from him.

Recently he decided to open a newsstand, but had been unable to get a permit. He was so afraid members of his family might catch the disease from him that he slept alone and always kept the doors and windows of his room open so he would get plenty of fresh air.

Six Belgian Families to Settle Here.
Six Belgian families, comprising twenty-one individuals, arrived on the St. Paul to-day. They are farmers who had saved a little from the ruin of their country, and were brought to this country by the Southern Settlement Development Organization of Baltimore to take up lands in Tennessee.

BROOD LOOKED SORE.
(From the Louisville Times.)
A youngster on a visit to Louisville was extremely mystified to see his mother (he was around a broom preparatory to sweeping some cobwebs from the ceiling of a shed. He was to his intellect conveyed the impression of numerous accidents. "Mamma," he whispered, "is the broom sore?"

These Notes are issued under authority of Law No. 9,468 of January 16, 1914, and are the direct general obligation of the Argentine Government, whose faith and credit are pledged for the prompt payment of the principal and semi-annual interest as they severally fall due. There will be embodied in the text of each Note the following agreement:

"The Government of the Argentine Nation covenants that during the life of this loan no more favorable conditions as to security will be given any other loan of the Government of the Argentine Nation without equally securing this loan both as to principal and interest."

Only one issue of Argentine Government Bonds has a specific lien upon import duties. The total interest and sinking fund charges on this issue amounted to only $2,453,230 in 1913, or less than 3 per cent. of the total ($84,540,316) import duties.

The total external and internal funded debt of the Argentine on December 31, 1913, was $525,493,137. The amortization payments for 1913 amounted to $9,793,171, and the interest to $24,640,515, a total of $34,433,686 for the service of the debt. As the national revenue in that year aggregated $148,266,329, the interest charges consumed but 16 1/2 per cent. and the total debt service only 23.3 per cent. of the total revenues.

The population of the Argentine on December 31, 1913, according to official estimate, amounted to 7,704,396. The preliminary indications from the census taken in June, 1914, are that this estimate was too low and that the present population of Argentina is over 9,000,000. Buenos Aires, the capital of the Republic, with a population, as shown by the 1914 Census, of 1,560,163, is the fourth largest city in North and South America. The area of the Argentine comprises 738,000,000 acres. Superimposed upon the United States it would cover the entire region east of the Mississippi River plus the State of Texas.
